A MESSAGE FROM BABYLON TOWN SUPERVISOR
RICHARD H. SCHAFFER

Dear Resident:

Since becoming your Supervisor, I have set a policy to ensure that every property owner in the Town of Babylon that is entitled to a Real Property Tax Exemption receives one.

This booklet, prepared by the Department of Assessment, is a basic look at the most popular Real Property Tax Exemptions available to homeowners. The booklet is free and designed to illustrate which Real Property Tax Exemptions you may be entitled to. At the end of this booklet are graphs that show exactly where your property tax dollars go.

If you have any specific questions, please call, write or e-mail the Town of Babylon Department of Assessment.

Thank you.

Very truly yours,

INTRODUCTION

This booklet is designed to make homeowners in the Town of Babylon aware of several Real Property Tax Exemptions currently available.

These exemptions are pursuant to New York State Real Property Tax Law and administered by the Town of Babylon Department of Assessment, which means the Town must follow New York State Law in processing all exemptions.

The following exemption information is very basic, indicating only the minimum qualifications. You must refer to the exemption application instructions for specific requirements.

Remember the last day to file for any of these exemptions is March 1, 2012. All late applications, unfortunately, will be denied.

Please contact the Department of Assessment at 631-957-3014 or assessor@townofbabylon.com if you have any specific questions or comments.

Thank you,

Michael J. Bernard, IAO
Sole Assessor
